

---

VOLUME XIV, ISSUE 2 (SPRING 2018)

TABLE OF CONTENTS

CONTRIBUTORS

EDITOR'S INTRODUCTION

ADVISORY BOARD

ESSAYS

"Exchange of Winnings or Mutual Beheading?: The Place of the Modern in Teaching the Medieval," JAMIE C. FUMO

"Teaching MS Harley 2253 in the High School Classroom: Four Lesson Plans," SUSANNA FEIN, HEATHER MATOSZKIA, CHARMAE COTTOM, STEPHANIE ANDREWS and ANNIE BRUST, "Introduction," SUSANNA FEIN

"What do YOU Stand For? Elements of Protest in MS Harley 2253 and in Modern Culture," HEATHER MATOSZKIA

"Teaching the Harley 2253 King Horn with a Reader's-Theatre Script," CHARMAE COTTOM

"King Horn: Reader's Theatre Script," CHARMAE COTTOM

"Using the Harley Lyrics in the Inner-City Classroom," STEPHANIE ANDREWS

“Gilote and Johane: Finding a Medieval Woman’s Voice and Teaching Women’s History,” ANNIE BRUST

“Teaching and Performing The N-Town Plays as Bricolage,” Douglas Sugano, Leah Haught, and Jamie Friedman